Weather Report; Life
Is Lost

SEVERAL TOWNS IN GRAVE DANGER

Felt For Lives Of Others In Flame-
Swept Forests

Salem, Sept. 17.—With one man killed to death, two seriously injured and four reported missing and the three towns menaced by the weather bureau officials today, fire fighters throughout the southwest disquieting infor-

Continued dry weather brings an acute "acute dangerous" forecast situation in prospect. It was Philip Roy, 70-year-old rancher burned to death while trying to save his home from a fire which is reported to have completely destroyed the town of Yacolt.

Though it is cut off by an increase of flames threatening the town of Estacada, 20 miles southwest of Portland, Bert Garner, C. A. and Dave Ely and Glen Davis, fire fighters, were feared to be killed today. Fire approaching to within one to two miles on three sides and whipped by a dry east wind were deluging the town with flames and embers.

The flames threatening Yacolt were enough to ignite several homes. Several families were forced to have been caught as the flames swept along the south fork of the Lewis river.

Partly sent into the danger the Sunday are thought to have sought refuge from the flames in a tunnel near Cooper City.
More than 300 men are fighting the flames and an appeal has been made for men and equipment from the local Guard.

A third town upon which fire is sweeping is Sumas, Wash. A fire which originated on the Canadian side was reported to be less than five miles distant and advancing rapidly by a strong wind.

Los Angeles, Sept. 17.—While the situation was declared to be dangerous today.

Caused by a fire which burned about 20,000 acres of brush and redwood timber to the very edge of the Utah was definitely reported to be in danger by state and federal authorities.

Santa Paula, Cal., Sept. 17.— Fire, uncontrolled, to Santa Paula, anyone, one of the worst forests in Southern California history today had razed the homes of men, women and children and had caused damage estimated at more than $2,000,000. Three persons are missing and their fate is unknown.

The fire, believed to have started from a high tension electric line, in Santa Paula, a small town, is now spreading along a five mile front.
Ten oil derricks and a 11,000-gallon oil storage tank were ignited and spread flaming destruction over part of Ventura county.
Asphalt roads blocked fire fighters from making their way in from the sulphur mountain region between Santa Paula and Ojai.

Men and autoists were conscripted to a radius of 50 miles to fight the blaze. Many volunteers suffered injuries in battling the fire.

THREE CRUISERS FORM BASIS OF PARITY ACCORD

Small Difference Stands Between United States
And England

NEW DIPLOMATIC
POLICIES AIED

Ratification of Initial Agreements Still To Be Heard

London, Sept. 17.—The ever-growing influence of American methods upon European statesmanship was signified today with the first appearance of the "Downing street spokesman"—British counterpart of the mythical anonymous, voluble individual known the world over as spokesman of the White House.

The British government chose an expose of the disarmament negotiations carried on between Great Britain and the United States for the "spokesman's" debut. For the first time in history, England's population opened its newspapers today and found a "highest and most authoritative source" speaking unrestrainedly from the British "White House" on the subject of disarmament.

At the same time, readers learned that Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald had received newspaper correspondents at the foreign office for a general conference yesterday.
The coincidence left little doubt as to the identity of the anonymous figure who has made his bow as spokesman of Downing st.

While the statement contained much that was already known, it revealed that the only margin of disagreement between America and England so far as their naval accord is concerned is over three eight-inch gunned cruisers with a disputed dead weight of from 24-000 to 30,000 tons.

"This is a very narrow margin," the spokesman declared, "and with a margin so small there can be no possibility of a break in the subsequent negotiations with President Hoover."

The statement contained one note of warning—to the effect that even if agreement on these three cruisers is reached, it must not be understood that the matter ends there.

The agreement reached between President Hoover and Premier MacDonald will have to be submitted to the United States senate and the British parliament for ratification, and even then it will be just a "preliminary."

Drug Conference
Scheduled Soon

Geneva, Sept. 17.—An international conference to deal with limitation of the manufacture of narcotic drugs was proposed by the British today.

The suggestion was made to the fifth league of nations commission which is handling the narcotic subject by Philip Becker, of England.

Becker offered a resolution stating that the only effective method of handling this subject and the only efficient means of combating the drug evil is a direct agreement among interested nations for legal control of manufacture.

hitching contest will be held and the horse pulling contest will be the big attraction at the park during the afternoon.

A stunt flier will entertain during the afternoon and efforts are being made to get at least one blimp from Akron to sail over the city.

The apple and potato show, to be held Friday evening at the Mempects than even the committee had expected. This is in charge of W.

Earl Ritchie Object Of Search By Police; Companion In Prison

Man Escapes When Lights Go Out In Garage Following Arrest; Geo. Bricker Accused Of Aiding Escape; Charges Filed

A warrant, charging Earl Ritchie, of Salem, constable of Perry township, with resisting an officer in execution of his duties, was issued today by Police Chief T. W. Thompson, following Ritchie's escape last night, after an execution for collection of an old fine was served on him.

George Bricker, West Pershing ave., is in city jail, also charged with resisting an officer, and also faces a charge of obstructing an officer in act of performing police duties, after police allege to have assisted Ritchie in effecting his escape.

Special Police Patrolman Michael Welch served the execution for collection of a fine of $200, imposed on Ritchie in 1924, about 9:30 p. m.
Monday. Ritchie, the police report states, was accompanied by Bricker, and asked Welch to grant him permission to drive his automobile to his home on Ellsworth ave., where he could store it in his garage.

Welch granted the request, and accompanied the men to Ritchie's home. They drove into the garage, and there the lights were extinguished suddenly, and Ritchie made good his escape in the confusion that followed.

Bricker is believed by police to have extinguished the lights, while the constable escaped through a rear door of the garage. Bricker was brought to city hall, and lodged in jail.

Ritchie was still at large today, the entire city police force having been detailed in the search for him.

The execution was issued by Mayor Phil O. Hiddeson for collection of a $200 fine, imposed on Ritchie on a charge of transporting intoxicating liquors five years ago.
The case was heard in the late Mayor J. B. Schaeffer's court, according to police records, and the constable was found guilty and fined $200. Ritchie appealed the case and common pleas court sustained Mayor Schaeffer's judgment.

Bricker was arraigned before Mayor Hiddeson this morning and charged with aiding and abetting the escape of Ritchie. He was set for 8 p. m. Wednesday. He was returned to jail when he failed to provide bond, which was set at $500 on the obstructing charge and $100 on the second. The former was brought under the state act and the second under the city ordinance.

CHILD ROBBER GANG ARRESTED

Eleven Juveniles Held In Thefts From Automobiles

Toledo, O., Sept. 17.—Police today are trying to establish the motive of 11 "child robbers" who committed a number of thefts here within the past few weeks.

The eleventh member of the juvenile band was arrested yesterday as he sat at his desk in a high school here.

According to police, who are withholding the names of the young bandits, the boy is said to have admitted stealing money, jewelry and clothes from automobiles, whose owners were visiting a fashionable beach resort here.

The boy, only 14 years of age, implicated another boy and an arrest is expected soon.

Five members of the "gang" are being held to the grand jury on charges of automobile larceny, and five others are being held by juvenile authorities, including two girls, 13 and 16 years of age.

Police declared that the band, during its operations in last two weeks, obtained more than $2,000 in loot, which comprised clothing, jewelry and money. Most of the loot has been recovered, officers stated.

"Schemes" worked by the child depredators included a race whereby the girls would entice men into an auto and then the boy members, who were concealed in the tonneau, would hold up the victims and rob them.

Though police believe they have cleared up the robberies and demoralized the gang, they are at a loss to establish the motive as some of the members come from good families. They place the actions of the band to "bad companionship," and, in one instance, the desire for a "thrill."

Arthur K. Switzer, manager of the cent attack of influenza.

BUS CARELESSNESS

The Ohio Utilities commission has inaugurated war on bus drivers who violate state speed laws, fail to observe regulations at railroad crossings and operate their vehicles over routes not prescribed in their licenses. This is a move that should draw the commendation of every bus driver in the state, and if rigidly carried out will serve to make bus riding less hazardous for every one concerned.

There are bus drivers and bus operators who faithfully live up to all the regulations of the Ohio utilities commission. But those who do not observe the rules of the commission, or observe the laws of the state with regard to safety in driving, are the ones who bring odium on the business as a whole.

Officials of a bus company operating between Detroit and Pittsburgh, have been cited before the commission to show cause why its certificate should not be cancelled because it operated over a route not specified in the license, operated buses at a speed in excess of that designated by law, and crossed railroad crossings without first coming to a dead stop. There are fifteen different and specific dates charged against this concern on which violations of the utilities commission rules are cited.

This citation came as a result of a state-wide survey by the utilities commission, and members of the utilities body have made it known that this survey will be prosecuted vigorously until such time as bus owners and operators learn to obey the law.

More and more men and women are riding buses. They board the buses for an inter-city trip, expecting their lives to be properly safeguarded by the drivers, just as they would expect the same thing were they boarding railroad trains. But it frequently happens that the driver of a bus is a smart Alec type who likes to "step on it" and who seems of the opinion that no one has any rights on the highways other than himself. As a result the lives of every passenger in that bus, not to mention those who are not in the bus, are jeopardized.

Buses are coming to be rapid and comfortable means of travel, and as lines are extended and additional buses put into operation it becomes all the more imperative that every possible precaution be taken to properly safeguard the public. The quicker the bus operators themselves begin curbing their reckless drivers, the better off the operators will be. And if the operators are themselves careless, there is only one thing to do—the utilities commission should revoke their certificates.

SHREWD FINANCIERS

Charles Delos Waggoner, of Telluride, Colorado, who went to New York and bamboozled six of that city's big banks into turning over to him cashier's checks aggregating $400,000, was captured in Newcastle, Wyoming, and is said to have confessed that he, and he alone, was responsible for the swindle.

Waggoner is the president of a bank in his home town, and worked his swindle by sending in the name of his bank a code telegram to each of the six New York banks authorizing it to pay a draft of specified amount when presented in person by Waggoner. Waggoner got the cashier's checks as stated, and turned them over to one of the six banks to be credited to the account of his own bank and used to take up certain securities held in New York for loans made by it or himself personally.

Waggoner is quoted as telling the Newcastle authorities that he committed the swindle to save loss to innocent depositors in his bank. He is said to have explained that the bottom had fallen out of things at Telluride and he felt that a desperate move was necessary, and thus he took what seemed to him to be the only way out, thinking that the New York banks could better afford to stand the loss than his depositors, the most of whom had the savings of their lives in his bank. The bulk of the indebtedness of his bank was carried by New York banks, which held collateral securities given to him by the people of Telluride to protect them—the New York banks. Believing that his plan to work the banks of the metropolis could be put through, he tried it out with the result noted.

The United States census of 1920 gave the village of Telluride a population of 1,618. If the village is anything like most of the villages in that part of the country its population has increased little, if any, during the years which have intervened since the taking of the 1920 decennial census.

Thus the country is presented the spectacle of six New York banks honoring drafts aggregating $499,000, two of them for $200,000 each, on telegraphic advices from a bank in a village of less than approximately 1,600 inhabitants, not a live village at that, but one from which the bottom had dropped out in a section which had suffered a like fate.

It is almost unbelievable that those we have been looking upon as the shrewd financiers of New York City would fall for a swindle such as this when all the conditions were such as to warn them against it. Never again must New York laugh at the simplicity of Main Street.

What Others Say

AN EXPENSIVE HAIRCUT

The last thing William F. Kenney probably thought about when he telephoned a barber in New York to come over to England, to cut his hair, was the effect it would have on the European impression of America and Americans. We credit Mr. Kenney with too much modesty to see any connection between his personal tonsorial needs and Europe's opinion of his country and countrymen. At the same time, we can not close our eyes to the picture of excited Parisians rushing about the boulevards with the story and demanding to know why Americans who can spend on a single haircut the telephone tolls from Paris to New York and a round trip ticket on the Leviathan, should want to collect war debts from the down-at-the-heel nations, which let their beards grow because they can't afford safety razors.

The right of a man who has made millions in the contracting business to spend a few hundred dollars on a haircut is indisputable, as long as it remains a private matter; but when he throws his ostentation in the face of Europe, along with the insinuation that one can't get a decent trim on the other side of the Atlantic, we feel that it becomes a public matter, which demands re-buke. This is the sort of thing which gives Europeans the idea that all Americans are made of money. The inevitable result is that they feel like evading their public debts to this country, and enjoy "squeezing" American tourists, although the latter may be trying to do the continent in three months on the savings of three years.

Americans abroad, when they meet this disagreeable attitude on the part of foreigners, are at a loss to explain it. They will not know its origin. The bad taste shown in such ostentation is expected in certain walks of life. One, hardly looks for it in the "angel" of the recent candidate for the presidency of the United States, William F. Kenney's haircut will cost his countrymen more than it will him.—Detroit Free Press.

Waggoner got the cashier's checks as stated, and turned them over to one of the six banks to be credited to the account of his own bank and used to take up certain securities held in New York for loans made by it or himself personally.

Waggoner is quoted as telling the Newcastle authorities that he committed the swindle to save loss to innocent depositors in his bank. He is said to have explained that the bottom had fallen out of things at Telluride and he felt that a desperate move was necessary, and thus he took what seemed to him to be the only way out, thinking that the New York banks could better afford to stand the loss than his depositors, the most of whom had the savings of their lives in his bank. MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy every mother should know about Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. London—A serious accident occurred just before noon in the south part of the Lisbon fair grounds when John Shriver, of near Salem, who was driving a spirited team of horses lost control of them for a minute and they ran away, throwing Mr. Shriver from the surrey. The Stars Say

For Wednesday, Sept. 18

The meteorological forecast for this day may not be considered an auspicious one. There may be stubborn clouds to be overcome, with worries and complications, losses, delays and disappointments. The employment may present difficulties and anxieties, and it may be necessary to resort to intrigue or subterfuge to maintain one's position. Writings may provoke complications.

Those whose birthday it is have prospects of a year difficult to manipulate with any degree of satisfaction. There may be obstructions, delays, setbacks as well as losses and anxieties. Safeguard the employment and beware of subtlety and craft.

A child born on this day may be clever and probably shrewd but may have to work very hard to surmount difficulties in life.

Fear and worry are as unnecessary as they are debilitating. They are our tax's heritage from the din down of time, and only clear thinking and audacious souls have risen above them.—A. M.

USE OF ELECTRICITY IN MODERN SURGERY

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

(United States Senator from New York)

My friend, Mr. Paul Hoeber of New York is always publishing most useful and interesting medical books. He recently sent me one entitled, "Surgery of Neoplastic Diseases by Electromagnetic Methods."

DR. COPELAND

My, but those are big words! The very able author, Dr. George A. Wyeth another friend of mine, must have burned midnight oil to find the title!

This is a valuable book dealing with those growths of the skin and other tissues which are puzzling to doctors and victims alike. Just what to do with a growth, whether it be malignant or otherwise, is not easy to determine.

There is the question of scar tissue. Will there be marked impairment in appearance? Is it a painful or dangerous procedure? Will it lead to permanent relief?

These are some of the questions that arise in connection with new growths. Who is to answer them? Everybody draws the knife. The "electrothermic" method, depending on the use of a needle, does away with the need of a knife. A special form of electric current is passed through the needle, creating just enough heat in the tissues it penetrates to dry out all the moisture until the treated tissue is destroyed. It just dries up and drops off, leaving a clean, healthy wound which quickly heals.

Some warts and moles, as well as certain forms of birthmarks, can be removed in this manner. A local anesthetic renders it a painless procedure.

Skin cancer and certain troubles with the tongue and inside the mouth are treated by this method. Other parts of the body, where inspection is possible, give themselves to the form of treatment in suitable cases.

My purpose in speaking to these matters is to reassure the timid. Every doctor knows that many a case of malignant disease has been cured, not because of morbid fear of an operation has kept the victim from consulting a doctor. When it is known that there are painless, bloodless ways of getting rid of sim-

Gen. Skiddy's Coach For Ford's Museum

Stanford, Conn. Sept. 17.—Gen. W. W. Skiddy, known as the "Father of rowing at Yale" because he is the last of the old guard of oarsmen and still spends days at Oakes Ferry when the Yale crews are in training, turned from interest in rowing to interest in things of the road the other day.

As a result, his famous four-horse coach and his two-horse phaeton with a footman's seat at the rear, all adorned with the Skiddy coat-of-arms, have gone to the Henry Ford museum at Dearborn, Mich. The vehicles were in storage here. They were built by Henry Hooker, of New Haven, in his day the world's most famous carriage maker.

When Gen. Skiddy, a multi-millionaire, took thought as to his carriages he told Mr. Ford, "You can have them if you want them." The deal was as simple as all that.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Sept. 17.—Curls have come back in profusion this season to tide over the untidy growing-out period because very often the hair is allowed to grow out to a short length and then it is cut off again.

Curls are an insistent fashion and the coiffeurs are showing charming curled effects, ringlets and "ponis" at the back or sides, according to the wishes of the wearer.

Little curls all over the head are produced by simply combing out the permanent wave immediately and not putting in the usual wave. It has been popular here this summer because it certainly saves coiffeurs' bills and much time, for all one has to do is to run a comb through and presto one is well-coiffed.

The hair is certainly being worn longer in Paris, at least the back is left long enough to "spin" or to be arranged in curls. But the large majority of French women do not seem inclined to risk comfort and health in letting their hair grow long again, whatever the fashion might be. It really seems that short hair will remain for the winter, but designed and played about with in fantastic fashions.

For sport and general wear, a little hair is seen from beneath the chic beret or the many practical little hats.

Long-haired curled chignons are being worn by the very few who have guarded their tresses. Hair that is parted in the middle and tapers in the low loop at the nape of the neck is very attractive for certain Madonna types, approved of in the modern mode.

A well-groomed, sculptured effect is still the main point in smart hairdressing and the best coiffeurs in Paris say they treat no two clients alike.

Body In Lake

Sandusky, O., Sept. 17.—The body of Arthur J. Beck, 35, a steward of Sandusky, was found in a slip off municipal dock in Lake Erie here today. A coat and cap belonging to the man were found on the dock and led to a theory of suicide in connection with the death. The body gave indications of having been in the water several hours. Police and the county coroner are investigating the death.

THE HOME KITCHEN

—By Jeannette Young Norton

Scallops are not as expensive as they sound. The price per pound may seem high, but comparisons should be made not with the whole of any other shellfish, but with the edible portion. Scallops are in the same class as filets—not a bit of waste. No shell, no inside, no bone. Everything that you buy is edible. Of course there is a good deal of waste to a scallop before the delicate white flesh is offered in the market. One never sees the complete scallop in the shell. All that we buy is the adductor muscle, which is that part which the bivalve uses to close its shell. The rest of the scallop is discarded before it comes to market.

Scallops at best are white and firm looking, and not necessarily large. In fact, the small ones have a finer flavor. But it is in the preparation of scallops that their best points are either developed or destroyed. How often we are served a dish of scallops in a restaurant and are amazed that while some are tender others are rubbery and hopelessly tough. It's all in the cooking. And when preparing scallops it is necessary not merely to be careful, but to be accurate according to a watched clock.

Fried Scallops

1 pound scallops
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup fine breadcrumbs
Drop the scallops into rapidly boiling water. Leave them there exactly one minute—not any longer. Then strain and dry on a soft towel. Mix beaten egg with salt and pepper and drop the scallops into the mixture, then roll each one in the dry breadcrumbs. Drop a few at a time in a pan of deep, hot fat or oil and cook for a minute until only light brown. Remove with a strainer and place on a serving plate lined with soft paper to drain and keep very hot until ready to serve.

A simple method and one preferred by many who do not like their food too heavily crumbed is:

Scallop Sauce

1 lb. scallops
1/2 cup fine breadcrumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter

Drop the scallops into rapidly boiling water and remove exactly one minute afterward. Drain on a soft towel. Roll very lightly in the bread crumbs and cook in the hot butter for a minute or two, until the scallops are a light brown. Add salt just before sending to the table.

It is very easy to overcook scallops—a minute more cooking than is absolutely necessary and the scallops become tough. It is better to keep testing with a fork from time to time for tenderness, even if the scallops have been cooking only for one minute rather than run the

Rheumatism In Knee Is Ended By New Konjola

Grateful Lady Finds in Master Medicine First and Only Relief

MRS. MAE LUKEMIER

"For three years I was a victim of rheumatism," said Mrs. Mae Lukemier, 3022 Reading Road, Cincinnati, Ohio. "The pains darted from one place to another, finally settling in one knee. I could not attend to my household. I was not only in terrible pain, but greatly discouraged for no medicine or treatment did me any good."

"I gave Konjola a trial, and could feel the ingredients of Konjola at work. Day by day my pains became less and less. When I had completed the full treatment of six bottles every vestige of rheumatism had vanished. My inner system began to work properly, the poisons were driven from my body, and today I am feeling stronger and better in every way than I have in years."

Konjola is sold in Salem, O., at all H. H. Lease drug stores, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Red And Black Opens 1929 Football Season Against Leetonia

Selection Of Starting Lineup Is Task For Hi School Coaches

The 1929 football season will be ushered into Salem Saturday afternoon, when Leetonia High clashes with the Red and Black gridgers at Reilly Stadium.

The Salem High aggregation will take the field odds favorites to defeat the Blue and White moleskin combine. Leetonia played its opening game last Saturday, holding a heavier and more experienced Ex-High team to an 18-0 score.

The Salem squad, so far figured as only a fair aggregation, will be out trying for a real start towards a successful season's record, one which will surpass any other record in the grid annals of the school. Eleven straight games are billed, straight through the entire season without a let-up, and a decisive victory over the Leetonia eleven will have started the outfit off well towards its goal.

Lineup Uncertain
Even Stone is as yet unable to predict what his starting lineup will be, but hopes at present are that Leetonia will not prove over strong and that he will be able to give most of the lads on his squad a chance in action. Experience appeared to be the thing needed by most of the candidates at workouts during the past three weeks, and the probabilities are that this opening fracas will go far in giving many of the outstanding prospects what is needed to eliminate the handicap caused by its lack.

Almost four full squads have been reporting to practices with regularity, giving Stone and his assistant, William McCord plenty of material to look over. The showing of several freshmen and sophomores in scrimmages last week indicated that quite a few of last year's lettermen will be compelled to play a classy game of football to get into the starting lineup, and it may be that a few of these underclassmen will get to start off with the opening whistle.

Seek Perfect Record
Just as Salem players have shown the need of experience in actual combat on the gridiron, so was this the handicap that Leetonia's gridgers were facing when they faced the Ex-Highs in their opener last week. The team to all appearances will be a good deal lighter than Salem's, but there is no doubt about it, that the experience received in the opening fracas will aid the Blue and White in its preparations for Saturday's battle. Coach Riley used just about every man available for action, and was able to a certain extent to select the lads who will oppose Stone's combine from the showing they made.

To go through the season without a defeat is the goal set by every grid coach and the players themselves, but with Salem High, who, during its entire history, can boast only one perfect record, this ambition is present more than ever. The season the team faces is a hard one—one of the hardest ever arranged for a Red and Black grid eleven, but the hope at present indicates that Leetonia will not furnish as strong opposition as any of the other teams on the schedule.

Weather Ruins Bruins Chance To Cinch Flag

New York, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Brooklyn's Robins will rise twice over Chicago today, and unless the Cub's powder gets wet, nightfall will find the weary ground-keeper sweeping up feathers while McCarthy's boys are in the back room smoothing out the folds of the National League pennant.

Needing but one game, the Cubs should be in before dark. For should they miss the Robins with both barrels the Pirates have but to lose to Philadelphia to give Chicago the pennant.

The weather and the Cubs conspired yesterday to keep Chicago from clinching matters, the former raining out the Cub-Robin affair, the latter taking both games from Philadelphia.

Pittsburgh won 3 to 2 and 5 to 2, the opener going ten innings. The double set-back skidded the Phils into sixth place with the idle Robins moving up.

Homerun Race Tied
The Giants' chances of finishing in second place were dealt almost a mortal blow when they blew another to the Cards, 5 to 4 after 11 innings. Mel Ott went into a tie with Chuck Klein and Hack Wilson for home run honors when he slammed his 39th of the year.

Even Red Lucas' presence on the mound could not check Brave batter, so the Reds dropped the final contest, 8 to 4.

Out to win 103 games this year, thus bettering all records of Philadelphia teams of the past, the new champions of the American League were stopped cold by Alvin Crowder who allowed but two hits and the Browns won, 3 to 2. Fox cracked a homer.

In a quiet sort of game the Indians managed to hit enough to turn back New York, 4 to 2. Babe Ruth hit no homers and little of importance happened.

For the second successive time Washington and Detroit were halted by darkness at the end of the eighth inning. But the Senators managed to squeeze in a 10 to 9 win.

The Red Sox whipped the White Sox, 4 to 3.

Fugazy To Ask Commission To Postpone Show

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, September 17.—As I understand it, they are going to fix everything today so that one and all will make as little money as possible out of the Sharkey-Loughran and Scott-Campolo fights, which may lead to the title or merely to the heavyweight championship of New York and Brooklyn respectively.

However, Campolo, he has the beef pain in the neck-o, and so Humbert J. Fugazy, who is an expert on pains in the neck-o, will ask the boxing commission today for a postponement of his fight until Monday next. If he gets it, he will be running virtually in conflict with the rival fight, scheduled three days later.

In this way, the chumps will have plenty of excuse for staying away from both and in the case of Campolo and Scott, the chumps don't need much inspiration. They probably could stay away the first time they tried.

Victorio, you see, is seeking to wender what it is all about. They realize that, under the international rules of cricket, the caballero can ask once more, after which he will be considered to be bowled out and a new batsman nominated in his stead. They are beginning to feel that this point is well taken and that so is the caballero.

SAVE WITH ICE

Different foods need different temperatures for Safe preservation

SOME foods — the highly perishable ones — require a low degree of cold to keep them at their best, while others — vegetables and fruits, for instance, dry out, lose their natural juices and flavors if kept in a temperature too low. For this reason, a correctly constructed, well-iced and properly operated ice refrigerator is ideal for the safe-keeping of all perishable foods.

Consult chart. The accompanying chart shows where different foods should be placed and also indicates the temperatures which a good ice refrigerator maintains in the different compartments. A well constructed ice refrigerator easily maintains a temperature of 45° in the milk compartment, thus assuring safe preservation of the most perishable foods, while the temperature on the other shelves varies just enough to permit each food to be placed where it keeps best.

Just tell us to keep you well supplied with ice so that you'll have plenty on hand every day in the year. Should you wish help in selecting a good refrigerator, consult us.

DR. SNOOK HAS 50TH BIRTHDAY

September An Eventful
Month for Slayer
Of Coed

Columbus, O., Sept. 17.—In the appalling, undisturbed quiet of "death row" at the Ohio State Penitentiary here, a birthday anniversary was observed today.

The aisle's most famous inmate, Dr. James Howard Snook, passed his fiftieth milestone in his walk of life, and, perhaps, his last.

September is an eventful month for the convicted murderer, who is sentenced to die in the electric chair November 29, the day after Thanksgiving, for the brutal slaying of Miss Theora Hix, his co-ed sweetheart.

And in September, too, will come the man's appeal for a new trial, which must be filed before Friday morning. It is generally believed, a stay will be granted to the doomed man by the court of appeals, until it shall fully review his case, and then another delay is possible when the Ohio Supreme Court takes up its deliberation on Ohio's most famous murder case, the hammer-and-knife slaying of Miss Hix.

Blaze Threatens Portland Waterfront

Portland, Me., Sept. 17.—A disastrous fire which for several hours threatened destruction to Portland's entire waterfront was brought under complete control today after a night-long struggle.

The blaze, which followed an explosion aboard the collier Plymouth tied up at a wharf of the Portland Terminal company, did damage estimated at $400,000.

The Plymouth, with a crew of 28 aboard, was being discharged of its cargo of sulphur when a terrific explosion occurred. Members of the crew fought the blaze on board the ship's apparatus, until finally her moorings burned loose. She was then towed out into the harbor, where the blaze was extinguished with a loss of $30,000.

"Bootleg" Center Adopts Ordinance

Corning, O., Sept. 17.—This town, which is situated in the very heart of the New Straitsville "moonshine district" today has a liquor ordinance of its own.

This step was taken by the "city fathers" so that portions of the liquor fines imposed upon the inhabitants would stay in the city treasury.

The liquor law is modeled along the same lines as others in effect in small Ohio cities.

Corning and New Straitsville have long been the "bug bears" of prohibition enforcement officers as the geographical condition of this section and the abandoned mines offer ideal shelter to distillers.

Turkeyfoot Leases Cause Protest Wave

Cleveland, Sept. 17.—A storm of protest was brewing in Akron today over the reported leasing of state lands in the Turkeyfoot lakes district to the Turkeyfoot Oil and Gas Co. two months ago.

The lease, the signing of which was not immediately made known here, was drawn in favor of Dr.
Harry Cope, Columbus dentist, although in reality, it is said, the lease is owned by the Oil and Gas Development company.

Fear that the lake district will be jeopardized by the drilling of wells throughout the region has instigated the criticism of director of public works Richard T. Wada in Columbus under whose regime as controller of state lands, the lease is said to have been signed.

Numerous sportsmen's organizations and the Akron Chamber of Commerce are understood to be planning to send delegations to Gov. Meyer Y. Cope this week to protest and demand that the lease be rescinded.

Bandits Get Over $1,000 From Bank

Toledo, O., Sept. 17.—Wood county authorities are heading a search today for two bandits who forced the cashier of the Mechanics bank in Bradner, O., to hand over $1,000, Monday afternoon and then escaped in an auto.

The hold-up men are thought to have headed for Fremont.

The cashier, H. A. Fortner, was handed a note by the leader of the two, demanding money. After handing them the currency, Fortner and his assistant were told to go into the back room and stay there until the visitors could make their departure.

There were no patrons in the bank at the time of the robbery.

MOVIES

Dolores Costello is starred in both feature screen attractions playing at the Royal and Grand theaters tonight and Thursday. At the Royal she is cast in the leading role in "Tenderloin," while at the State "Madonna of Avenue A" features her.

"TENDERLOIN"

New York's underworld, that region of shadowed sin whose nightly exploits in crime strip the invincibility of fiction, is the background of "Tenderloin."

Creek dramas are the latest craze of popular fancy, and as a background for the emotional talents of Dolores Costello, a gripping, swift-moving drama is promised by Warner Brothers who produced "Tenderloin" from an original story by Maxwell Graham, E. T. Lowe, Jr., doing the scenario.

Conrad Nagel has the leading male role while others in the supporting cast are Mitchell Lewis, George Stone, John Miljan, Dan Webster and Pat Hartigan. Michael Curtis directed.

Miss Costello's role is that of a dancing girl in a cheap boxery dive who is "framed up" as accomplish to a band of bank robbers.
Her performance is one of the most stirring of her career.

"MADONNA OF AVENUE A"

Memories of school days are revived by the opening scenes of
"Madonna of Avenue A."

The action takes place during commencement exercises at the fashionable Harbor Crest Academy, a girl's school at which Miss Costello is a student. Pupils and their proud parents throng the assembly hall, and there is the inevitable speech by the principal of the school.

In Miss Costello's support in this absorbing drama, much of which is steeped in the hectic atmosphere of a New York night club, are Grant Withers, Louise Dresser, Otto Holman, Douglas Gerrard and Lee Morran. Michael Curtis directed, and the scenario, based on an original story by Mark Canfield, was written by Ray Doyle.

WOULD BUY A

GENERAL ELECTRIC

THAT pint of milk which you wouldn't think of giving the children, the half-bottle of cream that's ever so faintly sour, the bowl of applesauce that doesn't smell quite sweet, the end of a leg of lamb...the countless left-overs that would make perfectly good dishes if you could only be sure they were safely fresh.

You can be sure. A General Electric Refrigerator will quietly and automatically maintain a temperature safely below 50 degrees.

Remember that this is the only refrigerator which has an all-steel cabinet and an hermetically sealed compartment mounted on top. Come in today and get the whole story.
